

SL. NO.	Page No.	Clause No.	Subject	BIDDER'S QUERY	OWNER'S / PMC REPLY
1			General Query	Can a GTG manufacturer who has a consortium with a EPC (lead bidder) also bid as a sub-supplier to other EPCs. Is GTG OEM allowed to make more than one consortium with EPCs (lead bidders)	Refer clause 17.0 of Instruction to Bidders and Addendum-01, SI.16
2	Pg 43 of 89	Clause 33.1.1 of GCC	Continued Performance	Under Clause 33.1.1 of GCC there is a reference to consequential damages/ losses. We request NFL to kindly withdraw the same and Clause 32.1 of GCC shall prevail.	Shall be as per NIT
3	Pg 42 of 89	Clause 32.2 of GCC,	OVERALL CEILING ON TOTAL LIABILITY	In Clause 32.2 of GCC, We request NFL to consider that the Bidder's liability to make the plant good shall be limited to the limit specified under the same clause 32.1 of GCC.	Shall be as per NIT
4	Pg 10 of 37	8.1.1.2, 8.2.1.2	Any one of the Consortium member can be supplier of GTG or HRSG or an EPCcontractor fulfilling the above requirement. Bidder's in-house experience shall not beconsidered as valid experience for the purpose of pre-qualification.	What is definition of In-house "As clarified during pre-bid meeting "inhouse" will include any company where management is connected or common.Please confirm"	Definition is as under: "Bidder's experience of executing a Contract/Purchase Order/Work order for a project of a sister concern or a holding company (company under same management/having common directors) or in which the bidder is either having a stake or is a sole owner of the project" shall be considered as Bidder's In-house experience